PRONOUNS

Personal Pronouns

Personal pronouns can act as the subject or object of the sentence.

I, me, you, he, she, it, we, us, they, them.

Possessive Pronouns

Possessive pronouns stand in the place of a possessive determiner and a noun.
The pen is my pen. -> The pen is mine.

Yours, his, hers, its, ours, theirs

Reflexive Pronouns

When the subject and the object of a clause refer to the same thing then we use a reflexive pronoun as the object.

I am proud of myself. She did it herself.

Demonstrative Pronouns

Pronouns that direct someone's attention at something.

This, those, that, these

Pronouns

Negative Pronouns

Show that something does not exist or did not happen.

Nothing, none, nobody, no-one

Interrogative Pronouns

We often use interrogative pronouns when asking questions.

What, which, who, whom, whose
What have you got in your hands?

Relative Pronouns

Relative pronouns relative relative subordinate clauses to the main clauses in a sentence.

Who – used for people

Which – used for objects

That – used for objects/people

Where – used for places

Whose – used in the place of a possessive pronoun

CONCORD

The word 'concord' means 'agreement'...the agreement between the SUBJECT and the VERB.

A singular subject takes a singular verb. A plural subject requires a plural verb.

SPECIAL RULES OF AGREEMENT

1. When the subject is made up of two or more nouns connected by 'AND', use a plural verb.
EXAMPLE: Susy AND her friends are...
2. When the subject is made up of two or more singular nouns connect by 'OR', use singular verb.
EXAMPLE: The television OR the radio is...
3. When the subject is made up of singular and plural nouns connected by 'OR', the verb should agree with the noun closest to it.
EXAMPLE: The president or his assistants run... | The assistants or the president runs...

4. Don't be misled by phrases that come between the subject and the verb

- one of the boxes is
- the people who read that report are
- the team leader, as well as his developers, is
- the manual, including all the chapters in the first section, is
- the woman with all the answers sits

5. The following words always require a singular verb

3. Direct & Indirect (Reported) Speech

When we represent a person's spoken words we can do this using direct or indirect (reported) speech.

DIRECT SPEECH When we use the actual words of the person speaking.

INDIRECT SPEECH When we report what was said without using the speaker's exact words.

REWRITING FROM DIRECT TO INDIRECT SPEECH

1. Start with an appropriate opening.

IF YOU ARE...

THEN USE...

REPORTING ON A STATEMENT

'said', 'stated', 'remarked', 'reported'

REPORTING ON A QUESTION

'asked', 'enquired', 'requested', 'questioned'

REPORTING ON A COMMAND

'advised', 'insisted', 'ordered', 'commanded', 'instructed'

REPORTING ON AN EXCLAMATION

'exclaimed', 'shouted', 'proclaimed', 'rejoiced'

When reporting the word, "Please", you can use the phrase '...politely asked'.

2. Change pronouns, adverbs and adjectives.

PRONOUNS

| First-person | Third-person |
|--------------|--------------|
| I | He/she |
| Me | Him/her |
| My | His/her |
| We | They |
| Us | Them |
| Our | their |

Adjectives/Adverbs of time & place

| Direct Speech | Indirect Speech |
|---------------|-------------------------------------|
| Here | There |
| This | That |
| Now | Then |
| Today | That day |
| Yesterday | The previous day |
| tomorrow | The following day / next day |
| Last week | The previous week / the week before |
| Ago | before |

3. What about the tense?

The verbs within the quotation marks are rewritten one step back in the past when they are converted into indirect speech.

Example:

Direct Speech: Tshegofatso said, “I will always love Trevor.”

Indirect Speech

Change the pronoun

Tshegofatso said that she would always love Cindy.

Change the tense of the verb

4. Active & Passive Voice

The term ‘voice’ refers to the ‘activeness’ or ‘passiveness’ of a verb, depending upon whether the subject is doing the action of the verb or receiving the action of the verb.

ACTIVE VOICE: In this voice the object is being acted upon.

Example: The chef prepared the meal.

- ✓ The active voice is a clear way of writing and it can have a strong impact on the reader.
- ✓ Verbs in the active voice reveal the performer or ‘doer’ of the action.

PASSIVE VOICE: The subject is being acted upon.

Example: The meal was prepared by the chef.

- ✓ The passive form gives a sentence a formality that makes it appropriate for official contexts.
- ✓ It focuses on the procedure and results rather than on the person doing the action.
- ✓ It can ‘disguise’ responsibility or remove emphasis from the doer.

When changing between active and passive voice, first identify the SUBJECT (S), the VERB (V) and the OBJECT (O).

Changing from Active to Passive

When changing a sentence from the active to the passive voice, there are a few changes that need to be made.

| Personal Pronouns | | |
|-------------------|--------------|-------------|
| | Subject Form | Object Form |
| Singular | I | Me |
| | You | You |
| | He | Him |
| | She | Her |
| | It | It |
| Plural | We | Us |
| | You | You |
| | they | Them |

Example:

The leader inspires the soldiers.

- 1) Identify the subject, the object and the verb

S V O

2) The leader inspires the soldiers. ✓

- 3) Ask yourself...in which tense is the verb and what are the auxiliary verbs for this tense.

Simple Present – are (plural) ✓

- 4) Make the object the subject...

The soldiers... ..by the leader. ✓

- 5) What about the tense? It remains the same! Remember the auxiliary.

The soldiers are inspired by the leader. ✓✓

Changing from Passive to Active

Example:

That artwork was admired by many students.

- 1) Identify the subject, the object and the verb

O V S

The artwork was admired by many students. ✓

- 2) Ask yourself...in which tense is the verb.

Simple past (was admired – singular) ✓

3) Move the subject to the front...move the object to the back.

Many students... ..that artwork. ✓

4) What about the tense? It remains the same! Remember the auxiliary.

Many students admired that artwork. ✓✓

5. Synonyms, Antonyms, Homonyms, Homophones, Homographs

SYNONYMS: Words with similar meanings.

Example: happy, glad, joyful

ANTONYMS: Words that have the opposite meaning to another.

Example: legal -> illegal

HOMONYMS: Words that sound the same or are spelt the same, but have different meanings.

Example: Bark - the noise a dog makes

Bark – the outer coating of a tree's trunk

HOMOPHONES: Words that sound alike, but are spelt differently and/or have different meanings.

Example: eight - a number & ate - past tense of 'eat'

7. Abbreviations

An abbreviation is a shortened form of a word. There are a few rules regarding abbreviations you need to be aware of.

Certain abbreviations end with a full stop.

- Mon. = Monday
- Tel. = telephone
- Jan. = January

Abbreviations do NOT have an end full stop if the last letter of the full word and the last letter of the abbreviation are the same!

- E.g.: dr = doctor BUT Fri. = Friday

In English we also use phrases taken from other languages, and in most cases their abbreviations are also written with full stops. Example:

- R.S.V.P. = Repondez s'il vois plait (Please reply)
- CV = curriculum vitae
- e.g. = exempli gratia (for example)
- etc. = etcetera (and so on)

Recent abbreviations, and abbreviations referring to the metric system, do not use a full stop even if the last consonant is left out.

- Pop = popular music
- Cell = cellular (phone)
- m = metre
- C = Celsius/Centigrade

Initialism

We can also abbreviate a phrase by saying the first letter of each word. For example:

| | |
|---|----------------------------------|
| HIV – human immunodeficiency virus | EFT – electronic funds transfer |
| SA – South Africa | CD – compact disc |
| USA – United States of America | DVD – digital versatile disc |
| UK – United Kingdom | IT – information technology |
| SAP – South African Police | ATM – automated teller machine |
| DJ – disc jockey | SMS – short message service |
| SABC – South African Broadcasting Corporation | UFO – unidentified flying object |

Acronyms

Acronyms are abbreviations that are made up of the first letter(s) of each word in a phrase and which are pronounced as a new word.

For example:

| | |
|--------------|---|
| AIDS or aids | – Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome |
| Cosatu | – Council of South African Trade Unions |
| ESCOM | – Electricity Supply Commission |
| FIFA | – Federation of International Football Associations |

9. Comprehension

To comprehend mean to understand. The comprehension section of an exam tests your understanding of the texts provided.

Comprehension tasks have to ask literal, reorganization, inference, evaluation and appreciation questions.

- Literal Questions (Level 1) – are questions that deal with information explicitly stated in the text. For example, literal questions could ask you to name or describe people or places, or to identify certain facts or reasons.
- Reorganisation questions (Level 2) – are questions that require the analysis or synthesis or organisation of information explicitly stated in the text. Reorganisation questions can ask you to summarise main ideas, state similarities or differences between things or to group common elements.
- Inference questions (Level 3) – are questions that require you to draw on your personal experiences to engage with information not explicitly stated in the text. For example, inference questions can ask you to explain the cause of something, the main idea of a text, or to say what a character's actions reveal about that character.
- Evaluation questions (Level 4) – deal with judgements concerning value, facts and opinions, realism, credibility, validity, logic and reasoning and issues such as desirability and acceptability of decisions and actions in terms of moral values. For example, you could be asked to evaluate whether an argument is logical or a story is realistic.
- Appreciation questions (Level 5) – are intended to assess how you are affected by a text. The focus on emotional responses to the content, identification with characters or incidents, and reactions to the writer's use of language. For example, you could be asked what your response would have been in a particular situation, or to say how effective the writer's use of imagery is.

10. Author's Purpose

The purpose of a text is why it was created. The acronym PIE can help you to remember the most common purposes of a text.

Author's Purpose: PIE

Persuade

When the author's purpose is to persuade, it means the author is trying to get you to do or try something

- COMMERCIALS
- BILLBOARDS
- ADVERTISEMENTS
- OPINIONS
- REVIEWS
- POLITICAL ADS

Inform

When the author's purpose is to inform, it means the author is trying to give you information and teach you facts

- DOCUMENTARIES
- NON-FICTION BOOKS
- HISTORY / SCIENCE
- NEWS ARTICLES
- RECIPES
- BIOGRAPHIES

Entertain

When the author's purpose is to entertain, it means the author is trying to make you enjoy the story by keeping the reader's attention

- FICTION BOOKS
- FANTASY
- MYSTERY
- COMICS / JOKES
- ADVENTURE
- ROMANCE

NOTE: An author may have a more specific purpose in mind other than to inform, entertain or persuade. The following chart shows examples of specific purpose (intention)

| General and Specific Purposes | | |
|-------------------------------|--------------|------------------|
| To inform | To entertain | To persuade |
| To analyse | To amuse | To argue against |
| To clarify | To delight | To argue for |
| To discuss | To frighten | To convince |
| To establish | | To criticize |
| To explain | | To inspire |

To figure out the author's purpose, the reader must consider the main idea, thought pattern and tone.

TONE & Mood

Attitude, Emotion and Atmosphere

What is TONE?

Tone is the writer's attitude towards a subject, topic, or theme as expressed in their work or piece. Tone is inactive, it remains the same, unaffected by the audience.

How is TONE produced?

Writers express their attitude and feelings through stylistic choices in setting, imagery, syntax and word choice.

When creating TONE as the writer ask:

- What attitude do I wish to convey about the subject or theme of my work?
- Are any elements or details preventing the work from achieving this tone?

When analysing TONE ask:

- Which words/literary devices stand out?
- Why might the writer have used these words/devices?
- How might the writer feel about the subject?

What is Mood?

Mood is the audience's emotions and feelings as generated by a work or piece. Mood is active, it is unique from person to person.

How is Mood produced?

Writers choose words and make stylistic choices to influence the audience's reaction to a work or piece.

When creating Mood as the writer ask:

- What makes my words believable?
- Are my word choices successfully creating the mood I wanted?
- On which details do I focus to influence the mood?

When analysing Mood ask:

- What emotions do I feel as the audience?
- Which words or phrases evoke these emotions?

Example: The following statements each express different attitudes about a shabby apartment.

Six different tones are used: Optimistic, bitter, tolerant, sentimental, humorous and objective

1. This place may be shabby, but since both my children were born while we lived here, it has a special place in my heart. Sentimental tone 'it has a special place in my heart' expresses tender emotions
2. This isn't the greatest apartment in the world, but it's not really that bad. Tolerant tone. The words 'not really that bad' shows the writer accepts the situation while recognizing that it could be better.
3. If only there were some decent jobs out there, I wouldn't be reduced to living in this miserable dump. Tone is bitter. The writer resents a situation that forces him/her to live in a 'miserable dump'.
4. This place does need some repairs, but I'm sure the landlord will be making improvements sometime soon. Tone is optimistic. The writer is expecting the apartment to be improved soon.
5. When we move away, we're planning to release three hundred cockroaches and two mice, so we can leave the place exactly as we found it. Tone is humorous. The writer claims to be planning a comic revenge on the landlord by returning the apartment to the terrible condition it was in when the tenants moved in.
6. This is the apartment we live in. It provides shelter. Tone is objective. The writer does not express feelings about the apartment. He simply states facts.

ANALYSING CARTOONS

- ✓ Look carefully at the picture and read the writing attentively.
- ✓ Take note of the character's body language and facial expressions.
- ✓ Pay attention to the type of language used.
- ✓ Look at the punctuation and the words written in bold.
- ✓ Take note of the setting and background details.
- ✓ Identify when the viewer's expectations are overturned to create humour.
- ✓ Determine the intention of the cartoonist.

14. Summary

A summary is a shortened version of an original piece of writing. In your exam you will be asked to reduce a text of about 350 words to a summary of 80-90 words.

A point-form summary is a summary of a text that is written as a set of bulleted sentences.

A paragraph summary is a summary of a text that is written in the form of a paragraph.

You will be expected to write a PARAGRAPH summary that contains SEVEN POINTS.

When writing a summary:

- ✓ Be accurate, clear and straightforward.
- ✓ Use your own words as far as possible.
- ✓ Use full sentences.
- ✓ Leave out examples.
- ✓ Leave out figurative expressions.
- ✓ Leave out lengthy descriptions.
- ✓ Leave out quotations and direct speech.
- ✓ Avoid writing in the first person ('I', 'we', etc.). Rather use the third-person voice ('he', 'she', 'it', 'they') or when giving instructions the second-person voice ('you', 'your', etc).

Steps in Summary writing

1. Read the question carefully.
2. Read the original text to get the feel of what it is about.
3. Identify the direct words that you want to use by highlighting or underlining.
4. Plan your summary using the 'block-method'.

| Direct quote | Own words |
|--------------|-----------|

5. Rewrite your summary in paragraph form.
6. Write the number of words which you have used at the end of your summary.

How a summary is marked

A summary is marked out of 10. The marker takes into account both content, and style, giving:

- ✓ 1 mark per main point, up to 7 marks.
- ✓ 3 marks for language, style and expression.

If a summary is too long the marker will read up to 5 words over the limit and ignore the rest of the summary.

15. Malapropisms & Spoonerisms

MALAPROPISM: The use of an incorrect word in the place of a word with a similar sound, resulting in a nonsensical or humorous utterance.

Example: He had to use a fire distinguisher. (extinguisher)

SPOONERISM: When the first letters of words/phrases are swapped.

When the speaker speaks too quickly or does not concentrate therefore it is also known as a “slip of the tongue”. It can also be used to create humour.

Example: I like red belly jeans.

16. Stereotypes, Prejudice, Bias

STEREOTYPES – a fixed and over-simplified idea of how people belonging to a certain group act. As this idea applies to all members of a group it is a generalization.

Example: Americans are rude, teenagers are rebellious, women are bad drivers.

People are often stereotyped based on their

- Nationality
- Gender
- Social classes
- Race
- Religion
- Sexual orientation

PREJUDICE – Refers to the tendency in people to form an opinion for or against something, that is not based upon experience or reason. It also refers to the tendency to pass negative judgements on people, based purely upon their membership of a particular group. For example, people who are judged based on their membership of a race or religion.

BIAS – A bias is a tendency to strongly prefer one thing, often to the exclusion of alternatives. A bias towards something automatically means a bias against other things. For example, someone who only buys German cars is biased against brands produced by other nationalities.

DISCRIMINATION – is action taken against some people based on prejudices, where the people discriminated against are treated unfairly.

17. Common Mistakes

Split infinitive – when one or more words are inserted between the ‘to’ and the base form of an infinitive verb.

Example: I expect him to completely fail in this task.

Redundancy – when words are used to give information that is already contained in other words.

Example: In my personal opinion, we should postpone this until later.

(Opinions are always personal, and when something is postponed it is always postponed until later)

Tautology – when two words are used that have the same meaning. It is a form of redundancy.

Example: She has a big huge dog. You need to reverse backwards.

Verbosity – when too many words are used.

Example: Up until the current time, the municipality made no objections to the festival.

(The municipality had not previously objected to the festival)

Ambiguity – when it is unclear how something is meant to be interpreted.

Example: Let's eat Grandma. I rode a white horse in full leather armour.

Comma splice – when a comma is used to join sentences, and it is an error.

Example: I walked after her, I started running.

Use of it's to show possession – it's = it is

Error of case – when a subject pronoun is used in the object of the sentence and vice versa.

Example: She invited you and I. (She invited you and me)

Example: The mugged tourist who I helped was very grateful. (The mugged tourist whom I helped...)

Number or amount?

Amount: Used for uncountable nouns e.g. water, bravery

Number: Used for countable nouns e.g. Dog, year, people

Few or less?

Fewer: Used for countable nouns e.g. cookies

Less: Used for uncountable nouns e.g. milk

18. Figurative Language Guide

| Poetic devices that use sound devices: | |
|---|---|
| Alliteration | Repeated consonant sounds occurring at the beginning of words or within words. Example: She was wide-eyed and wondering while she waited for Walter to waken. |
| Assonance | Takes place when two or more words close to one another repeat the same vowel sound. Example: The rain in Spain falls mainly on the plain. |
